Leadership

Vickie Klinkhammer, Department Vice President

Goal 3 of the 2014-2019 Strategic Plan is to develop leadership at all levels. As an American Legion Auxiliary Member and as a Unit, there are many ways that you can achieve this goal. Let us start with you as a member. A great way to build your leadership skills as a member is to volunteer to chair a short-term project for your unit. What might that be you ask? Does your unit have bake sales or other fundraising avenues to raise money for your unit projects that help our veterans and active duty military? Volunteer to head that up! Be in charge!! Make those phone calls to unit members to donate the bake goods, or to come and shop at your fundraising event. Does your unit adopt a family at Christmas time? Offer to go shopping for that family! What about a food drive for your local pantry, especially over the holidays when food pantries get depleted of supplies? Offer to organize that event! Don't sit back and let the same members do everything over and over again. Instead, ask them to be a mentor to you, to work beside you. If you have questions, they will be right there to guide you. Hone in on your particular skill and run with it! Be a leader! You will be glad you took the initiative to volunteer for that particular project.

As for Units, one way officers can help other members to be leaders in your unit is to get to know your members. Help to identify their skills that can be put to use in your unit and as a service to our veterans. Skills can include those with musical or art backgrounds, organizational skills, writers, cooks to work with your kitchen and organize a fundraising luncheon, or bakers to organize a bake sale. I would suggest passing out a sheet during a meeting asking members to write down their interests and hobbies to help identify their skills and strengths. Then use your members! Let their particular skill show that they, too, can be a leader not only for your unit, but as members of The American Legion Auxiliary at all levels.

Welfare Fund (Poppy Fund):

To Spend or Not To Spend . . . That is the Question

Diana Shadduck, Department Parliamentarian

Now that you have money in your Poppy Fund or Welfare Fund, how can you use the funds? The answers can be found in the American Legion Auxiliary Guide Book, page 78-79:

Poppy funds (or Welfare Funds) CAN be used for:

- For the rehabilitation of veterans and welfare of the families of veterans.
- For the rehabilitation of hospitalized military service personnel returning home and awaiting discharge who require treatment in service hospitals.
- For the welfare of veterans, active military personnel, and the families of veterans and active military personnel of the above named period where financial and medical need is evident.
- For the purpose of poppy kits and supplies used to make symbolic poppies and poppy items that will be distributed for donations to the Poppy Fund.

Poppy funds of Welfare Funds CANNOT be used for:

1. Any general operating fund of a department, Unit or Post.
2. Any community service project that does not strictly benefit the welfare of an individual veteran/ military service member or the welfare of his/her family.
3. General maintenance, beautification or improvement projects of American Legion or Auxiliary facilities, including adding ramp(s) to a post home.
4. Investments, even those that would bring profit to the unit or post.
5. POW/MIA programs.
6. Memberships, including other veteran support organizations such as Gold Star Mothers.
7. Contributions to, or payouts from, the Auxiliary Emergency Fund.
8. ALA Girls State/Girls Nation fees.
9. Flags or flagpoles
10. Scholarships which do not restrict eligibility solely to military service members or their children, or where the financial need is not evident.
11. Mileage, travel or lodging expenses; registration of conference fees; or costs incurred by a person – including ALA members, volunteers and staff — to attend any meeting, conference or event about veterans.
12. Attire or uniforms used by volunteers or staff in promoting or conducting ALA program activity or business. Use of Poppy funds is allowable for care packages only when it is for a welfare need, as opposed to a comfort need, such as first aid topical treatment or vital hygiene items and not comfort/ leisure items such as baked goods or books.
